Meridian Player is an innovative desktop application that allows your organization to deliver SCORM-conformant content to anyone, anywhere, without connectivity to your organization's learning management system. This versatile tool can be used as an offline LMS application, a mobile learning solution, or a multi-user training kiosk. This revolutionary tool is the world's first SCORM 2004 certified mobile LMS application.

Meridian Player provides mobile learning to the disconnected workforce. Sales professionals, retail employees, deployed troops and others with little or no connectivity were previously unable to access the enterprise LMS and associated content. The Meridian Player unlocks the power of online learning by allowing these users to download courses during periods of connectivity, or by loading them directly from a CD-ROM or LAN.

Meridian Player allows learners to take SCORM-conformant courses on their desktops with all the same functionality as if taken online, including:

- Tracking of course starts, progress, completion and test scores;
- Enforcement of prerequisites;
- Search engine for granular, just-in-time learning across all courses; and
- Credit/not for credit options.

Learner data is synchronized with the LMS once online connectivity is reestablished, or an administrator can import the data to the LMS via floppy disk or CD-ROM.
